Work Must Be Found

Through jobs men and women are insured against privation and kept off relief. Jobs enable them to hold up their heads among their fellow-beings, to be self-supporting, to maintain homes, to educate and raise families.

With the exception of Alberta, the Dominion has made substantial progress in the past year in the matter of increased employment. In fact, 60,000 jobs have been made available to Canadians in 11 months, or thereabouts. On every hand—with the exception of Alberta—there is a definite upward swing in the employment pendulum.

What is our situation here? According to statistics issued for the week of December 12, 1936, Alberta had 2,694 more jobless than for the same week of 1935.

The fact is that the present policy of debt repudiation has not increased employment, but has increased unemployment. If our men and women are to be found jobs, as men and women are finding jobs in other provinces of the Dominion, the credit of Alberta must be restored.

This statement is one of a series written by The Mortgage Loans Association of the Province of Alberta. The Association is composed of 34 member companies. It represents hundreds of thousands of small investments by typical Canadians. Its loans to citizens of Alberta amount to some forty-five million dollars.

(The eighth statement in this series will be published in two weeks)

Notes of Sport.

At the hockey game here on the night of February 25 between Walamun and S. P. Seniors, the locals made a runaway game of it. Ken McMorris was in goal for visitors, and he made a rather poor job of it, letting the puck get by him into the net only about 17 times. Louie Enders was in goal for Stony, and the puck got by him once only. Fraser Carmichael acted as referee.

The S. P. Snowsied and Skil Club are planning for a big tournament on Sunday afternoon next, if he roads are open.

Capt. Fraser Carmichael took his High School hockey team to the City on Friday night and played a Junior team at an East End rink. Our team was short a man, and had to hustle to get the game finished in their scheduled hour. Albert Wudel was in goal for S. P. H., and the puck got by him only once, while his team mates scored 2 goals on the City boys.

An Edmonton Junior hockey team, the Selkirks, played our S. P. H. team here on Sunday, and put up a good game. Final score—Stony 8, Selkirks 3. Referee, Phil Enders. The Hi, boys play Selkirks tonight in Edmonton.

"Don" Is a Busy Man.

Captain Gosset, who arrived back last week from his trip to England, brought news of "Don" Carmichael, the boxer. "Don" is at present located in Hastings, a well-known sporting center. He has been successful in securing matches with several of the best known knights of the mits in that city. The first of these affairs takes place on Saturday next, March 6th. "Don's" many friends here have confidence that he'll make good.

Jordan-Bauder.

A wedding ceremony was celebrated at the Parsonage of the St. John Lutheran Church, Blueberry, on Thursday, February 25, when Miss Ida Bander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Bauder, of Onoway, became the bride of Mr. Anton Jordan, of Villeneuve. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. H. Kuring.

Farmers' Program, Saturday

A special Farmers' program will be given in Kelly's Hall tomorrow, Friday, March 5th. The first film, "Implements of Today" is said to be an interesting one, including a picture of the mighty Niagara. Another film will show the endless uses of a good tractor. These and other films will be accompanied by explanatory addresses which fit into the pictures. Friday will be Massey-Harris Day, and a hearty invitation is extended to every one to attend.

An Extraordinary Document.

(Edmonton Bulletin)

Possibility of court action against real estate dealers who draw up legal documents in connection with land sales was hinted at by Mr. Justice Tweedie in supreme court last week during the hearing of an action brought by John Borvie, an Onoway district farmer, against Henry Zeiler of Stony Plain, to recover a quarter section of land leased on option to defendant.

The agent who made the deal drew up the agreement. The document was presented to the court during the trial, and Mr. Justice Tweedie remarked that after reading it he did not know what it was all about. It is a most extraordinary document, he added.

The case arose out of sale of a quarter section of land for $1760 to Zeiler. The purchaser thought he was signing an agreement of sale; the vendor was under the impression it was an option. The court could not decide from the document what the agreement was.

After hearing the evidence, the court ordered the cancellation of the agreement and the return of the land to the owner, the plaintiff in the action.

Another Boom Coming?

A warning against an impending boom must appeal somewhat in the category of an assembly to Western Canadians at the moment, yet there are not lacking signs that what might ultimately prove a real disaster is in the making on the North American continent and more than one authority is predicting it and shaking an admonitory finger.

The attitude of admonition and warning is inspired by memories of the grand orgy of 1928 and 1929 and its reflex debacle when values were wiped out overnight followed by a protracted and painful passage through the valleys of depression.

Those who profess to see another boom in the offing, and some of them are eminent and authoritative economists and statisticians, are not fearful of an era of prosperity founded upon the properly co-ordinated functions of demand and supply, of the application of sound business principles to production and distribution of needed commodities, but what they fear, and possibly with reason, is a repetition of the wild and unfounded enthusiasm which led to a mad scramble to buy stocks at fictitious prices, to a boost in the prices of commodities beyond their real value and to an unparalleled orgy of speculation, all more or less based on the desire of the participants to reap where they had not sown and to "get something for nothing."

To this spirit which raged across the continent like an unbridled prairie fire must be attributed the boom which preceded the profound collapse of the autumn of 1929 and the severity and lengthy duration of the period of penitence and suffering which ensued.

The question which is agitating the minds of exponents of safe recovery based on sound business methods is whether or not the victims of the depression from which the people are only just now emerging, have remembered and will heed the lessons which this season of trial should have taught them, or are they and their successors going to once more cast all discretion to the winds and again indulge in a riot of speculation and inflation leading to another depression which may be worse than ever?

Hoping for the best but fearing the worst, these authorities who are prophesying another boom and lessening stern warnings of the ultimate consequences should their fears be realized, are basing their conclusions on the fact that large sums of accumulated money are seeking an outlet, that raw materials and finished products are required in enormous quantities to replace the ravages of decay and obsolescence of the depression era and the superabundant optimism and forgetfulness of human nature which is so apt to make desire the parent of decision, to paraphrase a well known legend.

One of the authorities who fears the imminence of a period of over-expansion, followed by a depression so severe as perhaps "to shake civilization" is Roger W. Babson, well-known business statistician. In articles on the subject he points out that the business pendulum in the United States has swung back to normal and outlines steps which the government of that country has taken in the hope of stemming the possibility of another business cataclysm, but questions whether the brakes will hold in the event of a runaway.

Mr. Babson appropriately points out that legislative and regulatory safeguards are of doubtful value if they run counter to the mob spirit and is planning his hope to a spiritual revival as a safety valve and effective preventive. Undoubtedly he is right, his belief that such a revival would be far more effective than any man-made laws and control measures.

But no matter how nervous across the line or residents of Eastern Canada might yield to the lure of an inflationary boom, no matter to what extent they may succumb to a temptation to "whoop it up" again, it appears incredible that citizens of Western Canada could so soon be induced to participate, let alone aid in promoting another speculative debacle. The wounds and sores left by the last one must be too fresh and tender for that.

No, it must be assumed that Western Canadians will be content enough to feel their feet once again firmly on the ground without trying to soar on precarious wings to dangerous heights, at least for some considerable time to come.

Inverted Stomach

Rare Operation Is Performed In A Montreal Hospital

A middle-aged woman was on the way to recovery in a Montreal hospital after an operation for one of the rarest cases of "upside-down stomach" in medical history.

Doctors said the 51-year-old spinster, whose name was withheld, seemed to be progressing favorably toward normal physical condition following the 2½ hour operation that restored her stomach to its right position and corrected the position of her heart, which had been pushed far over to the right side of her body.

What made the case an extreme rarity, hospital authorities said, was the fact that the inverted stomach apparently developed in an otherwise normal adult. Babies are sometimes born with upside-down stomachs, but the medical men declared the occurrence of such a condition in a healthy adult was "most unusual." There have been only 12 examples known to medical science.

The surgeon in charge said the stomach certainly had turned over in the last eight years and most likely within the last year. Last August, the patient suffered a fall, and it was believed an outgrowth of that.

Fine, delicate furniture should not be kept near windows, radiators, or any place where sudden changes in humidity and temperature occur.

How To Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the cause or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or bleeding of the rectum is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from any druggist, a package of Hemorrhoid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemorrhoid is a obstinate prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it assures the fastest relief for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a moderate cost.

Ordered A Clean-Up

B.B.C. Starts Purge Following Flood Of Complaints

The British Broadcasting Corporation has ordered the greatest internal "clean-up" in its history.

Broadcasting House has been inundated with complaints from listeners offended by certain items in recent programs. Hence the "purge." Captain Cecil Graves, Controller of Programs, is to survey every department in this campaign to "keep the air clean." A "black book" of forbidden items has already been started.

"Broadcasting has no official censor because it has never needed one," one BBC official said. "We intend to maintain that reputation. Our responsibility lies in the fact that we take programs right to the domestic fireside where all members of the family are gathered."

Comedians "lines" are to be submitted to the Light Entertainment Director four days before the broadcast, and two officials will scrutinize them. Plays which contain strong language are to be rigidly inspected. Even talks will not escape the "clean-up." Protests have also been registered against realistic studio "effects."

Where doubt exists as to the propriety of any item, it will be referred for final decision to the Department Director concerned.

New Field Crops Valuable

With an average yield of 8.1 bushels at an average price of 87 cents, the 7,360,000 acres of Alberta farm land sown to wheat last year produced 67,000,000 bushels with a total return of $58,280,000. Comparative newness to Alberta's field crops, peas and beans topped everything in sight at an average of $1.50 a bushel.

Egyptian Mummies

Pharaohs Of Ancient Egypt May Be Returned To Original Tombs

The fate of the Pharaohs of ancient Egypt is being considered by the Egyptian Government and the shrunken mummies of the kings, now in the Cairo Museum, may be returned to their tombs. Experts are unanimous that the climate of this city is too damp for mummies. Replacing the mummies in their original resting places in the famous Valley of the Kings is considered the happiest solution of the problem.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels, and then it poisons you. You get constipated, harmful poisons enter into your body, and you feel sour, weak and the world is no fun. You need something that works on the liver to get the bile flowing again. Carter's Little Liver Pills get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Hardening and gouty, they make bile flow free. They do the work of colon but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Film British Fleet

Manoeuvres Of The British Home And Mediterranean Fleets To Be Shown

For the first time manoeuvres of the British home and Mediterranean fleets are to be made the subject of a film which, it is understood, will eventually be released to the public.

The film will be essentially "documentary" in character, but will have a theme. This will concern the adventures of two boys who join the navy, from the moment they put on their uniforms until they find themselves under active service conditions, as shown in the manoeuvres.

The producer is Commander J. L. F. Hunt. He was the captain of the submarine "Men Like These" and directed "White Ensign."

There are to be four cameras with the "Red" fleet and four with the "Blue" during the manoeuvres.

A Valuable Tablecloth

Has First Sketch Of London Tower Bridge On It

Has your tablecloth a sketch of the London Tower Bridge on it? If it has then send it to the City of London Corporation. When the plans for the bridge were being considered Sir Horace Jones, the city architect, sketched his idea on a blotting-pad. Later in the day he went to a banquet and elaborated the idea by sketching it on the tablecloth. The blotting-pad which bears the first sketch of Tower Bridge is now preserved in the Guildhall. The tablecloth, too, was preserved, though what has become of it is a mystery. Now the Corporation is looking for the tablecloth, which was used at a banquet in 1877.

Made Radio History

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek Broadcasts Address In English

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, China's "first lady," made radio history as the first Chinese woman to address a world-wide audience.

She spoke in faultless English from her home in commemoration of the third anniversary of China's "new life" movement—a plan she launched with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, her husband and China's political leader for a moral reawakening of the country.

China's "warlord era," with its attendant civil strife," she declared, "is nearing an end because public opinion opposes those who want to settle differences with the sword. National unity is here because the people demand it."

"For a decade Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek devoted himself to unifying scattered armed forces into a national army. Now he is seeking economic advancement."

She stated highways were the chief factor in the economic progress of China and said motor buses now were busy in every province.

Empire Defence

Says Each Dominion Should Realize Its Own Responsibilities

Each Dominion should realize its own imperial responsibilities, and the defence of an Empire scattered over the world should not devolve upon a small island, Leopold Amery, former Dominions Secretary, declared in a speech supporting the Government's defence program.

He said he refused to subscribe to the belief that rearmament meant war and declared it was a great mistake to regard the defence measures as directed against Germany. "When everyone else is putting their treasures into iron vessels can we afford continually to keep ours in brittle, earthenware jars?" he asked.

Makes Transport Safer

If Flying Conditions Over Air Routes Are Well Known

Ordinary prudence, to say nothing of the human element involved, would seem to dictate the suspension of air services over certain routes until more is known of conditions that are likely to militate against safe transport, and until airmen are better qualified to combat them with a substantial expectation of success. Certainly the continued growth of fatalities is destined to create a very grave feeling of uneasiness among the public at a time when there is a general desire that they should grow more and more "air-minded."—Montreal Star.

Reconstructed Bank Of England Is Said To Be Empire's Strongest Building

The reconstructed Bank of England—repository of the nation's gold—is being built to last 1,000 years. When completed, experts say it will be virtually impregnable and the strongest building in the Empire.

Work of rebuilding and strengthening the bank was begun in 1925. For years workmen have toiled underground. Now the upper part of the building is nearing completion.

A crackman would find his first obstacle after gaining entrance to the building would be penetration of a wall of solid concrete, 50 feet deep and eight feet thick, between him and the treasure in the vaults. He would find such concrete block "keyed" to its neighbor—a defense so strong that experts believe the bank's main vaults could withstand concentrated bomb attacks and an enormous charge of dynamite.

Beyond this wall—at the end of a dark and winding corridor studded with foot-traps which set alarm bells ringing—are double steel grilles with two-inch steel bars, then other doors of steel, each weighing 18 tons.

These, which open at a light touch—if you know the way—give direct access to the treasure house. But one step within the door brings armed detectives running to the scene.

Miles of alarm wires thread their way through underground passages of the bank, armed patrols are always on duty near the bullion rooms and secret devices are a constant trap for the unwary.

Invaders of the vaults could be trapped and drowned at the touch of a button, for thousands of gallons of water can be poured into strong rooms as a two-fold protection against burglary and fire.

This water-system is controlled from three points—from a secret point inside the bank, from Scotland Yard, and from the governor's house 10 miles outside the city.

So strong are the vaults that it has been estimated 100 crackmen would take a full year to penetrate them, even if there were no guards or alarms.

There are long horizontal sills high up in the outer walls of the building, from which machine-guns could dominate the surrounding streets if ever a siege were attempted.

A gallery runs around the top of this wall where patrols could keep watch in a time of emergency.

Barkless Dogs From Africa

Are Cat-Like In Appearance And Will Growl Gently

Barkless dogs—Baenjis from the heart of Central Africa—have been exhibited to London dog fanciers for the first time in any civilized land.

Great crowds assembled around Bongo and Berke and their eight puppies at Cruft's annual dog show in Agricultural Hall, London, where 4,332 dogs, valued at $5,000,000, were exhibited. The Baenjis were the rarest breed there. They were brought from Africa by Miss Olivia Burns, who sold them at good prices and was rushing home by airplane.

Generations of dusky masters, who use them to chase game, taught them not to bark. Finally evolution stamped out their bark altogether, although they growl gently.

The Baenjis, hardly larger than a fox terrier, average about 22 pounds each in weight. Yet they chase lions and other ferocious game.

Cat-like in appearance, they wash their faces with their paws and arch their backs when angry. Carvings of similar dogs appear on the facades of Egyptian tombs.

Atlantic Air Liners

Rochester Firm Building Planes Of Almost Unbelievable Size

A short time ago we called attention to the "hush hush" bombers which the British government are constructing under the most secret conditions. That the commercial manufacturers are making enormous strides is illustrated by the news—which is no secret at all—that Short Brothers, of Rochester, who have made some of the largest planes in the world—nearly the size of a coastal passenger ship. They will carry from 80 to 100 people and will have a cruising speed of 250 miles per hour. By reducing the number of passengers and increasing fuel capacity they could fly half way around the world without refueling. There will be seats of the swivel chair type for passengers in the staterooms. Passengers will sleep in staterooms, there will be bath-tubs and a dance hall.

These are the kind of planes Britain will put in operation next year. Ten years from then it would be hard to prophesy what the planes of that day will be like. Probably they will be "Queen Marys" of the air carrying hundreds of passengers across the Atlantic, breakfasting at Montreal or New York and having evening dinner in London or anywhere else in Europe—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Foolish Speculation

People Of Small Means Should Keep Out Of The Stock Market

A merchant told us the other day of a customer who had just informed him that he would not be paying his bill this month because the money was going into oil stock. From another quarter we heard of a lady who had offered to sell some property for a quarter of a million dollars to raise money for a flyer in the oil market. This, we think, is emphatically the sort of money that should not be used for speculation.

There are people—such as the speculators—whose natural business it is to prospect for oil. There are funds—such as the surplus savings of debt-free and prosperous citizens—which should quite properly be available to finance such exploration. The tragedy of any boom is that it usually goes on long after the legitimate speculator has deemed the risk too great for him and got out.

The cannon-fodder of the stock market are the little people who are tempted to go on and on for the very human reason that it is so much easier and more exciting to gamble than to save.—Calgary Herald.

Rocky Mountain Sheep

Car Startles Them Less Than A Man Walking

Rocky Mountain sheep are steadily decreasing in the Park, at Banff, and elsewhere formerly there were hundreds of them to be seen in the winter time, now there are but two groups in evidence. One herd is to be seen on the west road about three miles from Banff, and the other one ranges nearer town. There are seven sheep in this group and one strange fact noticed about these wild sheep is that they seem to be more afraid of a man on foot than they are of a car. At the first sign of a person approaching on foot they are off like a shot, down the mountain side and away up the west road on the gallop, generally taking to the middle of the road for faster travelling.

Aesop created the idea for the emblem on the American flag. The moral of many of his stories was "in unison there is strength."

Drinking water is apt to contain more oxygen in winter than in summer.

Belief That Dies Hard

Most People Think Moon Has Some Mysterious Power

Belief in the mysterious power of the moon over mankind dies hard. Many doctors claim that the effect of the moon's rays is considerable, though the matter has been very little investigated; certainly many beliefs about the moon are still held here and there, says a correspondent of the Daily Mail, even in this hard-headed age.

Most people dislike seeing the new moon for the first time through a pane of glass; it is supposed to bring bad luck. On the other hand, it is considered lucky to have silver in your pocket when you see it, and money counted at the new moon has said to increase during the month. It is lucky to turn your money over in your pocket at the new moon.

Country folk in many parts of England still wait for the new moon before they plant certain seeds, believing that the plants will increase as the moon waxes, but will have little chance of growth if planted when the moon is on the wane.

In Devonshire you are likely to be warned against cutting your hair and nails unless the moon is past the full.

There has always been a strong belief—among all peoples—in the sympathetic connection between the waxing and waning of the moon and the growing and finishing of human affairs. In the Orkneys there is still strong preference among young people to marry when the moon is new, for the new moon is the symbol of all happy beginnings. Similarly, country people often wait to cut down their trees or scythe their grass until the full moon is past, and the proper lunar season for finishing things has begun.

Few people will sleep in the full light of the moon without a superstitious qualm, and even doctors will say that full moonlight can have curious physical effects on susceptible people. People still tell tales of sailors being found dead or blind from sleeping on deck on nights of full moon.

Few Can Manage It

About $4,000 Required Yearly To Outfit Well Dressed Man

The average man should spend $1,000 annually for clothes, and to be well dressed he should spend at least $4,000, Raymond Twyford told delegates to the convention of the National Association of Merchant Tailors of America. To demonstrate what he termed a few of the "necessities" in the man's wardrobe, Twyford pointed to an exhibit, including a green tuxedo coat and hat to match, an opera cape with scarlet satin lining, and a strawberry outfitting coat with red and black striped trousers.

Viewed from the stratosphere, according to fliers, this terrestrial sphere is a deep purple. You can scarcely blame Mother Earth these days if she develops symptoms of apoplexy.

Proper Conservation Of Health Will Assist In Adding To Expectancy Of Life

Change Is Advisable

Gardeners Should Rotate Position Of Vegetables For Best Results

A gardener needs a plan of his work just as much as does a house builder. If garden plans are kept from year to year it will enable the grower to keep track of the rotation of the vegetables. Notes made on the garden plan each year will also prove a source of reliable information when the new plans are made. In planning the 1937 garden it is well to change or rotate the position of the vegetables that were planted last year. This is desirable to prevent exhaustion of certain food elements from the soil and to check the spread of insects and diseases. A safe plan is to follow last crop such as lettuce with root crops like beets or carrots, or fruit crops such as beans, peppers and tomatoes.

If the garden is large it may be divided into equal parts, planting one half to some legume crop such as clover. Always plough the crop under before the plants become woody. Some growers sow the entire garden to rye every fall. It should be turned under the next spring before it reaches the first joint stage. A garden in which both rye and the legume crops are used regularly will soon be much improved in producing power.

Clever Talking Bird

Minah Entertains Thousands Of Visitors At London Show

In a corner of Dorland hall, Regent St., where the management of the Crystal Palace opened its 69th national show of cage birds, a bird with a yellow bill entertained thousands of visitors with its powers of speech.

"I'm a minah. What's your name?" it asked, in a well-marked Glasgow accent.

A woman replied, "Mae West." The minah threw back its head and indulged in a long and deep throated chuckle. After a long pause it said: "Minah's not a bit happy. Give me an apple."

Then, recovering its good humor, it gave a good imitation of the laugh of the lonely Australian kookaburra, or laughing jackass, in the next cage.

It is claimed the minah, which is the property of A. Wilson of Glasgow, a fellow of the Zoological Society, is the best talking bird in the world.

Rose Afghan Blocks Join in Two Ways

Here's an afghan you'll really use—endlessly! The ever-popular rose design is always effective. It's crocheted the simplest; just do a number of the 7½ inch blocks (they're all the same) then lay them side by side, to determine which of the joining arrangements you prefer. Either one is effective. If you use German yarn for this, you're assured a fluffy, soft afghan. In pattern 5757 you will find directions for making the afghan; an illustration of it and of the stitches used; material requirements, and color suggestions.

With adequate community organization and personal discipline devoted to the conservation of health, the fostering of fitness, the prevention of disease and the curbing of illness, it is not too much to predict that some day the expectation of life at birth may be 70 years—man's allotted span—states an educational message prepared and released throughout Canada by the Health League of Canada.

Between a third and a half of the annual illness in Canada is preventable, the Health League asserts. Yet it is still with us.

The longevity of the people has increased in Canada as in other countries, the educational message reads. "We are becoming literally an older nation. This does not mean that our chances of living to 100 are much better. We are not living to more extreme old age than our fathers, but more of us are surviving the risks of death in infancy, childhood and young adult life. It is, then, the average length of life that has been extended.

The latest estimate for Canada (1931) places this average expectation of life at birth for men at 59½ years, and for women at 61½ years. This record compares fairly with that of other countries. The following most recent statistics for men and women combined are not strictly comparable because they do not correspond to the same years.

	Years
New Zealand (1931).....	60½
Holland (1921-30).....	nearly 63
Sweden (1926-30).....	62
Denmark (1926-30).....	nearly 62
Australia (1920-2).....	61
United States (1928).....	61
Germany (1924-6).....	61
Italy (1930-2).....	55
U.S.S.R. (European area).....	44
1926-27.....	44
Japan (1921-5).....	42

When contrasted with conditions in the twentieth century in Geneva where the average length of life was 21 years, these figures suggest that there are some advantages of being born in the troubled 20th Century.

It will be readily seen that this average expectation of life at birth forms a most exact index of hygienic and social conditions. For example in England the average life expectancy in the past century has risen from 41 years (1836-64) to 59 years (1928). This rise is but the reflection of steady progress by the improved medical services, the new public health services, and the extended methods of social amelioration which have been developed during that 100 years.

The Canadian reports show a similar record of prolonged life. In Ontario, in 1885 the Provincial Board of Health had just been formed three years. A comparison between conditions then and after 50 years of organized public health effort is revealing. In Ontario Typhoid fever in 1885 caused 462 deaths, in 1935 there were 38 deaths. Diphtheria's 1885 death toll of 1,006 has been reduced to 83 in 1935. Tuberculosis of the lungs has been cut in more than half from 2,313 deaths in 1885 to 1,096 deaths in 1935. And these reductions were made while the provincial population doubled.

In Toronto in 1900, 850 babies died before they reached their first year. If they had been born in 1934 about 600 of them would have been saved, such has been the improvement in our infant care.

Such then are some of the "silent victories of public health," but the task is by no means over. Between ¼ to ⅓ of the annual illness in Canada is preventable and yet still with us. Four great principles should guide us in its elimination:

1. Conserve health
2. Foster fitness
3. Prevent disease
4. Cure illness.

With adequate community organization and personal discipline devoted to these ends it is not too much to predict that some day the expectation of life at birth may be 70 years—man's allotted span—and the glory of this will not be in its length of years but in the fullness of a healthy life.

Captain James Mollison plans to fly films of King George VI's coronation in May from London to New York, in a plane to be built specially for him, it was reported in London.

A general labor shortage in the United States during 1940 was regarded as "highly probable" by the national industrial conference board, provided business activity continues increasing at a rate equal to that maintained between 1933 and 1936.

Willing to Make Trip

Women Pilots Would Fly Coronation Films To America

A special trans-Atlantic airplane flight is being planned in order to hasten delivery to North American motion-picture theatres of Coronation films.

Negotiations are proceeding with Amy Mollison, Beryl Markham and other distinguished pilots, to undertake a flight to New York, according to Sir Gordon Craig, General manager of the company which has been granted exclusive rights to the ceremonies on May 12 (British Movietone News).

Copies of the films will also be despatched to North America on the dirigible Hindenburg, scheduled to leave Frankfurt, Germany, late on the day of the Coronation. They will be flown to Frankfurt.

Mrs. Mollison and Mrs. Markham, both of whom have already conquered the North Atlantic by air, have indicated their willingness to attempt the flight, it was stated.

Canada will receive its copies of the films from New York by fast service.

The government of Northern Ireland has guaranteed $1,000,000 toward the cost of constructing and equipping the new aircraft factory at Belfast.

Unordered Merchandise

No Obligation On The Part Of Recipient To Return To Sender

Few persons have escaped the annoyance of receiving through the mails such articles as ties, scarves, handkerchiefs and other merchandise which they have not ordered and had no intention of buying, but which they either pay for, go to the expense of returning or worry about. They need not do any of these things, according to the Toronto Better Business Bureau, which sends out a circular deploring the recrudescence of this "racket" and advising the public how it may be disposed of. It seems the names of the victims are taken from telephone directories and the trade is well organized. It evidently succeeds to a profitable extent, or it would not be persisted in.

Now here is the cheering information supplied by the Toronto Better Business Bureau. There is no obligation, it says, to buy the merchandise, neither need it be returned to the sender, even when a stamped addressed container is enclosed. "If a qualified representative of the company calls for payment or to take back the goods, the citizen is quite within his rights in demanding storage charges before turning the merchandise over to the agent," proceeds the statement. But the recipient of such goods is not entitled to appropriate them to his own use. He must, of course, "hold them for a reasonable length of time."

The co-operation of the public would soon put an end to the nuisance, which is so detrimental to legitimate business. It is an impertinence to force unwanted goods on an individual in this way and there is already so much literature of an importunate nature coming through the mails, that it is distressing to contemplate the growth of this movement by which an attempt is made to disrupt the business of the stores and the ordinary channels of trading. It can be immediately seen that the consequences of accepting such a method would be highly detrimental to the welfare of the community.—Hamilton Spectator.

New Scientific Discoveries

Mass Production Of Shoes That Really Fit Is Promised

Elimination of staleness in bread, improvement of mass-production shoes that really fit and dental fillings that last, are among the new scientific discoveries described in the annual report of the department of scientific and industrial research in Britain.

The manner in which the quality of pork and bacon is linked with the growth and diet of pigs is also being studied. It has been found a rapid walk of a quarter of a mile makes the pigs' tissues more alkaline and this has been found of importance in dry curing.

Through a process of gas storage in an atmosphere containing oxygen and carbon dioxide, the luscious William pear, which remains in an eating-ripe condition only a few hours, can now be held in a marketable condition for weeks.

The Flour Millers' Research Association reports that what the housewife usually calls "staling" is due, as a rule, to poor keeping qualities of the bread. Investigations have shown bread made in the best possible way from the best flour will keep for 10 to 12 days.

Scott Girl Likes Work Even If It Is Hard

Charlotte Wilson, 17 years of age, of St. Andrews, Scotland, has qualified as a marine engineer and has carried out the traditions of her family by going to sea. She is engaged on her father's fishing vessel, The Katharine, and along with her father and grandfather she will sail regularly to the fishing in the bay. She dresses for her work in a blue jersey and overalls. It is her task to start, stop and manoeuvre the ship. She also helps to pull in the nets. She admits that it is a hard life for a girl, but she much prefers it to housework.

Doctors Are Puzzled

Strange Case At Worthing, England, Is Something New

A ten-year-old boy, strong and healthy, walks daily to school at Worthing, England.

He is intelligent, able to read and write well.

And the moment he arrives at school he is unable to talk, read or write.

Doctors are puzzled. They have never before heard of such a case. For certain reasons the boy's name has been kept secret.

So interesting is his case that Worthing Town Council have made a grant of $150 to help in the search for a cure.

One theory is that early in his life the boy received a shock which is now responsible for this nervous disease.

An important point to remember is that it is not for want of trying that the child is unable—when he arrives at school—to talk, read, or write.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LIFE HERE AND HEREAFTER THROUGH CHRIST

Golden text: I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no one cometh unto the Father, but by me. John 14:6.

Lesson: John 14:1-15:27. Devotional: Readings: Ephesians 3: 14-21.

Explanations And Comments

Christ the Consoler, Verse 1. The disciples were a "sorrowful little band facing an hour of darkness that they could not understand,"—their hearts failed them as they approached the last crisis in their master's life. "Let not your heart be troubled," let not trouble have dominion over you, lovingly Jesus commended them: "believe in God, believe also in me." It was faith in the Father that kept Jesus serene and peaceful so near his end and faith in the Father and the Son would uphold the disciples in that terrible time.

Here lies the secret of an untroubled heart in "the midst of troubled circumstances—faith in a Father who is good and wise and in his overruling all things for good, will keep the heart from despair in times of storm and stress."

Christ's Words about Heaven, verses 2 and 3. In my Father's house are many mansions. Our word mansion meant originally a place of shelter, and the margin of the Revised Version has the translation abiding places.

If it were not so I would have told you, that your hope might not be in vain.

"Faith, Hope and Love were questioned what they thought of future glory which religion taught:

Now Faith believed it to be firm— True Hope expected so to find it, too.

Love answered, smiling with unconscious glow,

'Believe? Expect? I know it to be so.'"

"He that hath seen me hath seen the Father," Jesus then solemnly affirmed. "My words and works are the Father's. Believe that I and the Father are One because of my words, alone, but if you cannot do this, believe me because of my life and works which prove this." What Jesus Christ is seen to be in the three years of his recorded life, the Spirit of God is in the history of the human race.

Gardening

Informal planting, say the experts, is the most suitable for the average flower garden. True, it is possible with very large grounds and skilled help to do something with straight, dignified rows and borders. But in the average case planting irregularly in clumps will produce the most pleasing effects. Such planting, too, will give the appearance of spontaneity, even tiny backyard gardens the appearance of much larger affairs.

Wherever it is possible there should be a bit of lawn in the foreground, with an irregularly shaped bed of flowers and shrubs along the possible groups of shrubs at the corners. Screening of harsh, straight lines about the house and drives with clumps of flowers and shrubs and an occasional trailing vine over verandahs or garages will bring the whole thing together. It will give the home the appearance of being part of the landscape rather than some rigid affair sticking out of the earth.

Vegetables, on the other hand, should be planted in straight rows. But here, too, a little planning will help. There are a great many new varieties now available in Canada and by the liberal use of some of these new things, and by adopting the rule to make at least one sowing of each variety a week or ten days apart, production can be material increased. The big advantage of the vegetable garden right at the door is freshness, but to get full value in this respect it is important to have a new supply coming along frequently. Therefore, the modern gardener instead of planting all his peas, lettuce or carrots on the same day, puts some in the first week and more a little later.

Will Likely Be Smokeless

New Town Being Planned On Outskirts Of Liverpool

If present plans are carried out a new town to rise on the outskirts of Liverpool, England, will be free of smoke. It is to have 5,000 houses built at a cost of more than $5,000,000, and sites are to be left for three churches, a moving picture theatre, seven schools, two shopping centres, and a playground. It is proposed that the houses shall be electrically heated so that there will be no smoke to interfere with the skyline near at hand.

Bullet-Proof Glass

Bullet-proof glass, costing $2,000 for each coach, is being fitted in all first class cars of express trains of the South Manchuria Railway on the line running from Mukden to Antung. This policy has been adopted because of the many cases of shooting at passengers on this line.

It has been estimated that World War pensions will last at least 100 years.

REALITIES MUST BE FACED IN BRITISH FOREIGN POLICY

London.—"Plain speaking" by Britain probably would convince the United States drastic international legislation now under consideration at Washington is doomed to failure, a Labor peer declared during a foreign policy debate in the house of lords.

"I do not suggest that we should interfere with America's domestic legislation," Lord Strabolgi said, "but this is a matter which affects the peace of the world... we've been thinking rather too much about Europe and not quite enough about the new world."

"It is a mistake to suppose Americans only work on compliment and flattery," Lord Strabolgi said. "I believe they are glad to have plain speaking. I think the time has come for some plain speaking with the United States and I believe you will get a favorable response."

Lord Arnold, also a Labor peer, opened debate with a warning "realities" must be the keystone of Britain's foreign policy. He attacked Britain's alignment with France and the latter's mutual assistance pact with Moscow.

The peace of western Europe can best be safeguarded by a treaty of mutual guarantee, on the lines of the treaty of Locarno but not necessarily identical with it. Earl of Plymouth, under-secretary for foreign affairs, said as he wound up the debate for the government.

France and Belgium already had replied favorably on such a treaty. Lord Plymouth said, but no answers had been forthcoming from Germany and Italy. He expressed satisfaction the non-intervention committee which he heads had reached a solution whereby the Spanish civil war would be confined within the Iberian peninsula.

He said Britain intended to remain faithful to the League of Nations and its engagements with France and Belgium. Britain's rearmament was necessary for "other interests and responsibilities in Europe," he said, and would never be used for purposes inconsistent with the league covenant.

Lord Strabolgi said "the American senate is about to be invited to discuss legislation of far-reaching character connected with American neutrality in case of war in Europe or elsewhere. As far as I understand, the extreme view taken by certain senators in that should war or civil war break out anywhere, the United States is to sever all commerce altogether with both belligerents."

"Quite frankly, I think that policy will be found, in practice, to be utterly impracticable."

"I cannot see American business cutting off all their export trade merely because there is a war."

"Are we doing anything about that?" the peer then asked. "I should have thought it perfectly proper of His Majesty's representative (Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay) to be discussing it with the American government."

Lord Arnold asserted Britain must open her eyes to the fact the League of Nations no longer can execute the obligations for which it was created. He cited the "absolutely illusory" character of collective security as another of the hard realities of the international scene.

Proceeding, he declared London's alignment with Paris was tantamount to an alliance upon which the British people had not been consulted. The peer then attacked the Franco-Soviet pact as a permanent threat to European peace inconsistent with the league covenant and the Locarno treaty.

The ensuing debate featured Lord Mount Temple's insistence upon better treatment for Germany.

Three things could be accomplished if France were advised to abrogate her pact with the Soviet union, Lord Arnold declared.

"First, there would be an enormous improvement in Anglo-German relations. Secondly, there would be a good prospect of peace being established in western Europe for at least 25 to 30 years, and, thirdly, there would be a big contribution towards settlement in European politics."

Test For Dog Racers

Eight Teams Will Compete In Farthest North Mushing Classic
Cameron Bay, Great Bear Lake, N.W.T.—Indian trappers, prospectors, mine managers and Royal Canadian Mounted Police who live along the coast-line of Great Bear Lake prepared for the inaugural running of the Arctic dog derby.

At least eight teams will compete in the new and farthest north mushing classic over a 15-mile course on the ice of Great Bear. The start will be at the Eldorado mine and a residence rule bars dogs domiciled more than 50 miles south of the Arctic Circle.

Because of hard trails, glare and hummocked ice, experts call the course one of the most grueling tests of dog racing.

Among the contestants will be a 15-year-old Japanese boy named Morimoto, only known member of his race living in the Northwest Territories.

Morimoto is an experienced driver, engaged in driving prospectors on swings around the coast. He runs seven Huskies.

Receive Equal Treatment

No Discrimination Shown In Relief Aid To Provincers

Ottawa.—Financial assistance to the provinces for relief purposes is under the definite agreement there be no discrimination as to race, religion or political affiliation. Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor, told the House of Commons.

He was answering a question raised by J. S. Woodsword, C.C.F. leader, over a report in a Montreal newspaper that would-be colonists under a farm settlement plan were refused because they held "advanced ideas." The Dominion's agreement with the provinces guarded against such criticism, the minister said.

New Airdromes Planned

Cost Provided For In Estimates For National Defence

Ottawa.—Establishment of three airdromes was provided for in the national defence vote for air services considered in the House of Commons, Defence Minister Ian MacKenzie said. One airdrome would be in Dartmouth, N.S., and the others at points not yet decided upon. At least one would be on Vancouver Island.

It was proposed to bring the total strength of the air force, permanent and non-permanent, to 513 officers and 2,444 men. Of these the permanent force would include 195 officers and 1,498 airmen.

Protest From Postmen

Ottawa.—Protest against mail deliveries on Saturday afternoon and statutory holidays was made by the Canadian Postal Employees' Association during the annual three-day convention at Ottawa. The association also will ask for a return to the working hour schedule in effect until 1932. Prior to that date employees on nights worked seven hours.

Holds First Investiture

London.—The king held the first investiture of his reign at Buckingham palace, conferring insignia on 150 persons mentioned in the New Year's honors list. Following the investiture the king received in audience Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian high commissioner, and Captain H. P. C. Brookhank, secretary for mines.

Brave Boy Rewarded

Toronto.—John Kent, 14-year-old Chatham boy who risked his life February 9 in a futile effort to save the life of his dog, Snooty, from the Thames river, is to get a new dog. The Toronto Humane Society thinks so highly of John's rescue effort it is going to present him with a thoroughbred wirehaired fox terrier and a medal.

Ethiopians Executed

Strong Arm Methods Used To Quell Anti-Italian Outbreaks

Rome.—Machine-gun outposts were strengthened at the Ethiopian city of Desaye to guard against further anti-Italian outbreaks while executions of Ethiopians found with arms continued apace in Addis Ababa.

The precautionary measures were taken in the face of assertions by Italian colonial officials the Fascists were undisputed masters of the Desaye region. They claimed, in fact, nine-tenths of Ethiopia was in Italy's grip and that she was rapidly occupying the remaining tenth.

Officials admitted, however, a column of 3,000 Ethiopians under Ras Desta Denta-Haile Selassie's son-in-law—had staged an attempt to drive the Italians out of Addis Ababa and had been defeated two or three days' march from the city.

Safety For Flying

Northern Planes To Be Equipped With Two-Way Wireless

Edmonton.—Two-way voice wireless equipment probably will be installed by Royal Canadian Corps of Signals at Chipewyan, Alta., and Goldfields, Sask. early this spring in an effort to increase safety and accuracy in northern commercial flying, it was announced here by Major J. Genet. Chipewyan is about 375 miles northeast of Edmonton.

Many commercial planes operating out of Edmonton as well as R.C.C.S. stations at Fort McMurray, Alta., Fort Smith, N.W.T., and Fort Norman, N.W.T., have been equipped already with two-way voice apparatus.

Home Improvement Plan

Approve Principle Of No Increased Taxation On Improvements

Ottawa.—The national employment commission announced that the majority of provincial governments have indicated approval of the principle residential property assessments should not be increased because of ordinary home improvements under the home improvement plan or others of similar character done without its aid.

Arthur B. Purvis, commission chairman, sent letters to all provincial premiers stating success of the H.I.P. depended to some extent on recognition of this principle. He suggested certain lines of possible assistance which provincial governments might follow to ensure such home improvements be not used as bases for increased taxation.

Ontario, New Brunswick, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and British Columbia sent favorable replies while the other provinces have not signified their intention.

U.S. Dust Problem

Dust Bowl Spreading Rapidly Across The Country

Oklahoma City.—Agriculturists manhandled here for a war against crop-killing wind erosion were told the "dust bowl" is spreading swiftly across the United States southwest, creeping eastward in Oklahoma at the rate of 30 miles a year.

Conferees were prepared to ask the federal government for aid because "the dust problem is too big for any one state to handle."

At Manhattan, Kas, Harry Umberger, Kansas State college extension director, termed "absurd" any intimation that dust had destroyed the southwest's wheat-producing area.

Julian Tarrant, planning board erosion expert, said "7,000,000 acres of western Oklahoma land now is damaged seriously by wind erosion," while in 1935 about 2,000,000 acres were "completely ruined by the dust."

Covers Four-Year Period

Anglo-Canadian Trade Treaty Renewable After That Time

London.—The Daily Herald said it is understood the new Anglo-Canadian trade treaty will cover a minimum of four years and that it is renewable at the end of that period.

The Financial Times, only other newspaper to comment on the signing of the treaty, said British exporters are looking forward to numerous tariff reductions on finished goods and added: "It is fairly obvious that the Yorkshire woolen industry have been making a great effort to enlarge upon the concessions made in the 1935 (Canadian) budget."

PAINTING THE FLEET

The sailors with the British Home Fleet at Algiers know that Spring is here, because they have started to spring-clean. This picture, very much suggestive of flies around a jam pot, shows some of the boys on the H.M.S. Rodney giving the ship a new coat of paint.

GUARDIAN SAYS DIONNE QUINTS HAVE A FORTUNE

Toronto.—Hon. David A. Croll, who made the Dionne quintuplets virtually millionaires in two years, moved in the Ontario legislature to turn over his job as special guardian—or business manager—to new hands. The change will take place April 30.

"The only 'name' which comes to the quintuplets' manager is something like the reflected glory enjoyed by a movie star's husband," Mr. Croll explained to the house which two years ago put him on the board of guardians as the king's representative.

"I have this much vanity—I prefer my work as administrator of the departments of welfare, labor and municipal affairs, rather than as contact man for five small girls, no matter how successful a one," he added.

He told the legislature his two-year stewardship brought the Calender babies a fortune in money. He was glad to say Olivia Dionne, father of the quintuplets, who opposed the guardianship and its control over the children's affairs, finally has come to favor the arrangement.

Percy D. Wilson, Ontario's official guardian whose duties include administration of the quintuplets' will succeed Mr. Croll on the board. Other members remain their positions. They are chairman, Judge J. A. Valin; North Bay; Dr. Allan Roy Duford and Olivia Dionne.

Announcing for the first time that the government and Mr. and Mrs. Dionne at last were in agreement upon the value of a guardianship, Mr. Croll said:

"There was at the time criticism of the method the government followed in the 1935 legislation. The parents in particular were inclined to regard the bill as a theft of their children. I am happy to say they have changed their opinion on this point. Dionne and I are now the keenest advocates of some form of continued governmental protection and assistance."

Shell Hits British Ship

Spanish Anti-Aircraft Shell Falls On Battleship Royal Oak

London.—Explosion of a Spanish anti-aircraft shell square on the quarterdeck of the British battleship Royal Oak injured four officers and a seaman and aroused some concern lest other such "incidents" mar a six-power neutrality patrol of the Iberian peninsula.

The shell apparently came from a Spanish government anti-aircraft gun which was firing on the attacking planes. Captain T. B. Drew, three other officers and one seaman aboard the Royal Oak were slightly hurt by shell splinters. None, it was announced, was "incapacitated." Later the battleship put out to sea.

Authorized sources said the government contemplated no protest, since the incident, technically speaking, was "more or less an act of God." They explained the Royal Oak was lying just outside Valencia harbor, and that there was, obviously, no Spanish intention to damage it.

Loyal To King George

Indian Princes Declare Fealty At Meeting Of Chamber

New Delhi.—The Chamber of Princes decided to send King George VI. a "profession of profound and steadfast loyalty to his person and the throne from all the ruling princes and chiefs of India."

Meeting to discuss the proposed all-India federation, the Chamber was addressed for the first time by the new viceroy, the Marquess of Linlithgow, who said he was encouraged by the response of the princes to his efforts to assist them to reach a decision on the proposed federation as soon as possible.

He admitted that conversations between his emissaries and the princes had thrown new light on many sides of the federation question but hoped that in the not distant future satisfactory conclusions could be reached. He stressed the importance of early decisions.

MORE ABOUT THE HERRING.

A good way of serving Herrings is "Kipped Herring Salad": Mix 1 cup of diced kipped herring, 1 cup of cold potatoes cut in cubes, 1 small chopped onion, half-cup raw carrots, salt, pepper. Mix with mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise. Garnish with sections of hard boiled egg cut in eighths. Sprinkle with paprika.

For grilling, prepare the fish in the same way as for frying, that is, cut off the head and fins, clean and scrape off the scales.

Then score them 3 times on each side, brush them over with olive oil or melted butter, sprinkle with pepper and salt, and grill them for 10 minutes or longer, according to size. Serve with maitre d'hote butter.

If mustard sauce is preferred, brown a dessertspoonful of flour in the oven and mix it with a teaspoonful of mustard and an ounce of melted butter in a saucepan. When it's smooth add a half cup of boiling water and simmer for 5 minutes. Then add a pinch of salt and vinegar to taste and serve.

For herring au gratin the fish is prepared as for frying and also split open and filleted. Well butter a fireproof dish and sprinkle the bottom with chopped parsley, finely chopped shallots and mushrooms, pepper and salt.

Score the fish, lay them on the dish and sprinkle some more of the same mixture on top of them.

Add a sprinkling of fine bread crumbs, dot some pieces of butter over, moisten the dish with a little water and dash of vinegar and cook in a moderate oven for 20 minutes.

Soused herrings make an admirable breakfast dish and may be eaten cold. These are very simple to prepare. Clean 4 herrings, remove the heads and fins and scrape off scales. Lay them in a fireproof dish and spread over them a medium sized onion, cut in rings. Add 12 black peppercorns, a bay leaf and a sprinkling of salt. Just cover the dish with vinegar and water in equal parts, put lid on dish and cook in slow oven for 45 minutes.

Empress Winter Golf Tournament

While the rest of Canada is shovelling itself out of snowdrifts, Canada's only mid-winter golf tournament of an international character will be held on the Royal Colwood Golf Club Course at Victoria, B.C., from March 1 to 5. This is the annual Empress Winter Amateur Golf Tournament, now in its ninth year, which brings well on to 500 enthusiastic golfers from Canada, the United States, and Europe into competition for a large number of valuable prizes, including the Sir Edward Beatty Challenge Cup, Chamber of Commerce Trophy, Victoria Rotary Club Rose bow, and Mason Inter-District Team Cup. Favored by summer-like weather, the tournament is the high-water mark of the social season for the winter colony on the sunny southern tip of Vancouver Island. Victoria will be in festive mood for the event, while Colwood's beautiful clubhouse and the regal Empress Hotel, with its gardens, conservatory, and Crystal Garden swimming pool, will form an ideal background for the colorful social activities which mark the six days of tournament play. Included as added attractions will be a dinner dance and entertainment every evening in the Empress Hotel, with presentation of prizes at a Grand Ball on Saturday night. Golf experts and dubs alike will find competitions suited to them in the week's play at Royal Colwood, a lovely course constructed on park land, 6,591 yards in length, with a par 70 that was broken only once in tournament play. Play will be divided into classes for both ladies and men, ranging from open amateur events and handicap matches to features that stress the social side of the grand old game.

Early Church Started Fish Habit which Perists to This Day.

Fishermen from the Atlantic to the Pacific are hopeful that the present effort of the Canadian Government to promote the consumption of Canadian fish will result in people eating more fish throughout the week.

The fish has been eaten as a food since prehistoric times, the early Christian church decreed that no meat should be eaten on Fridays or fast days, but that fish be substituted. From that arose a practice which has present and has led people of every denomination to associate fish with Friday often to the virtual exclusion of other days.

Leading executives of the fishing industry claim this habit is not only harmful to the industry but is robbing people of many advantages. If people eat more fish throughout the week they would be assured of fresher fish. The increased demand for fish would give an impetus to the whole industry.

Not only the fishing industry but the medical profession are behind the move to encourage people to eat more fish throughout the week. Many medical columnists of newspapers have gone on record as to as to the nutritive and healthful value of fish. With its richness in proteins, minerals and other elements, they say, fish is an important article of diet, as nourishing as other foods and more easily digested.

Bad News for the Covenanters.

Social credit constituency organisations will be asked to decide whether Premier Aberhart will continue in power or resign. The Premier told his supporters Sunday from the pulpit of the Prophetic Bible Institute in Calgary he had been unable to redeem his election promise to establish social credit in Alberta in 18 months. He asked them to pass resolutions at constituency association meetings, advising whether they wished him to resign.

When interviewed in connection with Mr Aberhart's admission on failure, John Blue, secretary Chamber of Commerce, Edmonton, is quoted as saying "It is gratifying to realise that experience in office is showing the Premier the inexorability of the laws of logic and economics."

FARMERS' INTEREST IN TRANSPORT RATES IS HELD TO BE PARAMOUNT.

Appeal to the Dominion Government to consider the interests of the farmers as paramount in legislation relating to grain transportation rates now before Parliament was made at Winnipeg recently, in a telegram forwarded to Hon C D Howe, Minister of Transport, by the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association. The message dispatched to the Government by the Line Elevator Companies who comprise the membership of the Northwest Grain Dealers' Ass'n, reads:

"With reference to proposed Act to establish a Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada the Country Elevator Companies who are members of this Association and whose customers comprise more than 50 p.c. of Western farmers respectfully draw Government's attention to danger that the fixing of uniform rates for steamship companies upon Great Lakes will tend to limit competition presently beneficial to cost of movement of Canadian grain and particularly to possibility of additional burden upon Western farmers due to increased freight charges. Earnestly recommend that interest of hard pressed Western farmer be considered paramount in any legislation or regulations directly or indirectly affecting grain transportation rates."
